The Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in conjunction with The United States Small Business Administration and Fannie Mae are proud to present this small business conference.

This conference offers you the opportunity to interact with Federal Agencies which contract $240 billion dollars of business to private businesses. By law, 23% of federal agency contracts must go to small businesses. This is your opportunity to find out how to get your share. You will also receive important financial resource information. Ms. Jo Baylor, Director of HUD’s Office of Small and Disadvantaged Business Utilization will be the keynote speaker for the event. There will also be a video presentation from Senator Ensign.

Every Federal agency has an OSDDBU whose primary responsibility is to ensure that small, disadvantaged businesses, disadvantaged and women-owned businesses are provided reasonable opportunities to compete and be selected for a fair amount of contract dollars.

There will be exhibits and representatives from local governments, the State of Nevada and banks.

Our Partners

U.S. Small Business Administration (SBA)

The SBA cares about its employees and customers. It is guided by principles that inspire leadership, integrity and entrepreneurship. SBA advocates for all small businesses by taking leadership in building a productive partnership between the American people and its government. The SBA team focuses on delivering results for small business, being accountable, accessible and responsive.

Fannie Mae

Fannie Mae is a community partner that provides contracting and business opportunities to local businesses. Fannie Mae is an integral partner with its programs that work to provide workforce housing for employees of small businesses.

Fannie Mae was instrumental in providing a video presentation from Senator John Ensign for this conference and financially supporting this conference.
